JAPAN'S DEMANDS ARE JUST

Excited as though a bomb had fallen under the peace table in Paris came the news of Japan's demand for racial equality as a requisite to a successful, satisfactory agreement on their part to the plans of the League of Nations.

The attitude of the European nations on this question, we are not in a position to present to state, but if the press of America can be relied upon as an expression of the sentiment of the American people, Japan's demands will be vigorously opposed. The news and editorial writers of the great metropolitan dailies seem to have discovered the time-worn nightmare "Social Equality" in Japan's demand, and are devoting much space to throw all the strength of America's racial prejudice into the conference that Japan's demand may be denied.

Japan's demands, to our mind, are reasonable and just. They only call for equal and just treatment of the people of their country at the hand of the contracting nations.

If the people of America are not ready for a fair and just peace, especially to one of their allies in the recent great war, if holding to racial prejudice is dearer to them than the lives of millions of the best blood of the nation; then why not call President Wilson home and our peace envoys to return, and let the war continue until men's hearts change.

The very fact that some members of the Council are willing to form a League with their fellow envoys, and at the same time not willing to give their associates a fair deal, makes a farce of the League of Nations and renders it unworthy of further consideration.

Japan is right. We cannot hope for abiding peace so long as racial discrimination and racial prejudice are acknowledged barriers for denying any man a fair deal.

In as much as Japan is "not too proud to fight," and they have the men and munitions to back up their demands, they cannot honorably accept anything less.

THE BLACK ONLY SKIN DEEP

An Editorial in the NORTHWESTERN CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE of March 5, 1919.

The "black devil" came home week before last and Chicago turned out en masse to welcome them. The "devils" were the city's colored regiment—the Eighth—who saw enough service to lose ninety-five men killed and over four hundred wounded. The "black devils" never quailed. They never took a prisoner. They fought with a rush and when they came back home the downtown streets were lined with hundreds of thousands, white and black, to see them march by. It was a splendid sight. Behind each company surged the mothers, sweethearts and sisters of that unit. In perfect marching order, they swung along, helmeted and wearing every sign of soldiership; and as we watched them we thought: Here is a people whose grand parents were slaves, whose parents are to this day deprived of certain blessings of American citizenship, and who themselves had begun to feel the handicap of race. They are returning from Chateau Thierry and Belleau Woods, where they gave themselves in the finest demonstration of American citizenship. They forgave all. They forgot all. They were Americans, and the shout that accompanied their regular tread told that Chicago was proud to own them as fellow Americans. Would that their line of march could have taken them through every great city of the country! Would that those sections of the country where the Negro is despised and deprived of the common blessings of citizenship could have been honored if for it would have been an honor by having this fighting Eighth swing down their streets in military order! And to think that this regiment, is but one of scores who fought as true Americans to preserve the liberties which to a no inconsiderable extent had been denied them. Really, there is a glimpse of character just here that has rarely been duplicated in the field of patriotism.

Remorse of conscience landed one of the jurors who convicted Dr. LeRoy N. Bundy in the insane Asylum.

We are sure that the remaining eleven should have the soundness of their judgment passed upon, for a prejudiced mind is incapable of giving a fair and just decision.

Getting together in the League of Nations reminds us of chasing the rainbow.

Clean up, rig up or dress up. Anything to show that you realize that spring is here.

The Republican Party of this city and State lost one of their best strategists in the death of the late Gus Frey.

Some of the Negro political workers are strong in their condemnation of John W. Shine, Constable of the 3rd District for his failure to keep his pre-election promise. Remember that there are other so-called good Republicans who are holding office in St. Louis that should not be overlooked.

Any country that grants aliens and enemy aliens rights and privileges that are denied their most loyal citizens needs a few strong common sense statesmen.

IN MEMORIAM. Sacred to the memory of my dear daughter, Jennie Cobby, who passed away one year ago April 4. Death be a path that must be trod if man would ever pass to God. I know that my dear one is at rest where the white-robed angels are within the gates that's left ajar. She's dwelling in the land of the blest, forever with God's saints at rest. How often was my poor daughter's look who loved God's word to hear. Her angel face, I see it yet. What thronging memories come. Sadly missed by mother, Rosie Jackson.

IN MEMORIAM. In loving memory of our dear baby, Theodore Rowland Jones, who departed this life, March 29, 1917. Age 3 months, 16 days. Another little lamb has gone. To dwell with Him who gave. Another little darling boy. Is sheltered in the grave. Clara Fox, 2212 St. Ferdinand, 44. Amidst His shining band. And so He bent His loving smile. And clasped on darling's hand. Sadly missed by his mother, Mrs. Clara Jones and beloved family.

CARD OF THANKS. We take this method of thanking our many friends for the expression of kindness shown as during the illness and death of our wife and sister, Mamie Montgomery, who departed this life, April 2nd. We also thank you for the beautiful floral designs and especially do we thank Rev. W. H. Peck for his comforting words and undertaker Mr. James Harris, for efficient service. Nora G. Montgomery, husband and relatives.

CARD OF THANKS. We wish to thank our many friends and relatives for the kindness shown us during the illness and death of our mother and sister, Amy Britton, who departed this life, March 12th, and also for the floral offerings. Especially do we wish to thank Mrs. Priscilla Russell, undertaker, for personal interest in the family in the hours of bereavement. Mrs. Laura Crute and children.

IN MEMORIAM. In sad remembrance of our dear father, John and mother, Theodore Washington, who departed this life two years ago April 7, 1917. Years of silence often flow. For the memory keeps you near us. Though you died two years ago. But our dear one loved by all. We little thought on that day. Our dear one would be called away. We could not realize what was said. When the message came that he was dead. Day by day we sadly miss him. Friends who make this world is healed. But they still know the grief. That's within our hearts concealed. He shall never be forgotten. Never from our memory fade. Loving hearts will always linger. Around the grave where he is laid. Sadly missed by wife, Mrs. Mrs. Washington; Mrs. Orange Washington; mother, Mrs. Malinda Bunnell; Mrs. Birdie Turner, sisters.

IN MEMORIAM. In loving remembrance of our dear husband and father, Chas. Busby, who departed this life two years ago April 11, 1917. With aching hearts we yearned for you. Both night and day. In the deep winter shadows. We see your face in the mist apart. And you seem so near at times my dear. And you gladden our saddened hearts. Each night we pray our Father above. We ask to join you there. We only wish that He grants this prayer. Sadly missed by wife and daughter; Parthenia Busby and Alberta Busby.

IN MEMORIAM. In loving remembrance of our darling baby, Ernest Clifford Cook, who departed this life, April 5th, 1912, at the age of six years. We see your face in the mist apart. A pure and loving child. He gave to our longing. To cherish undied. Just as the bud was opened. Down came our Heavenly Father. And took my darling Ernest away. Sadly missed by his mother, Mrs. Minnie Cook and relatives.
